underscored by the interconnectedness of economies, the acceleration of climate change, and the evolving expectations of stakeholders. Recognising this need, the BSSS IAS Colloquium on Sustainable Management Practices emerges as a crucial platform to deliberate on and shape the future of business and academia. The colloquium will serve as a channel for exchanging ideas and strategies that transcend geographical limitations, fostering a global perspective on sustainable business practices. In the days to come, the businesses that adopt and champion sustainable management practices meet regulatory requirements and build trust and credibility with their stakeholders. The colloquium will provide a space to explore the evolving expectations of stakeholders and discuss how sustainable practices can be integrated into business models to create value for both organizations and society.

Background

In the ever-evolving landscape of global business and academia, the BSSS Institute of Advanced Studies (BSSS IAS) recognizes the pressing need for an inclusive and collaborative discourse on sustainable management practices. With an unwavering commitment to excellence and innovation, BSSS-IAS is proud to host the Colloquium on Sustainable Management Practices—an initiative designed to foster a dynamic convergence of industry expertise and academic ingenuity. In a world characterized by rapid globalization, technological advancements, and environmental challenges, the discourse on sustainable management practices has become imperative.
